General points about Meals and Snacks

The communal meal is something that we all love about the winter shelter program. Like last year, we ask that our volunteers make some adjustments to safely offer hospitality to our guests.

Key points for this season:

The overnights will be the only ones in contact with our guest, e.g. you deliver all meals to the kitchen or WBC North Entrance between 5:30 and 6:15pm on the RITI Saturdays

1. Dinner

- There will be only 12 people for dinner
- The overnights will put the meals on plates, unless it is already boxed.
- Cooked meals can be provided in bulk and will be split up before serving, or you may bring 12 individual dinner boxes. Home-made meals are welcome, but you might also bring some take-out food.
- Include something to drink; lemonade, caffeine free sweet tea or soda, .... We have decaf coffee and water / ice on site.

2. Breakfast for 9 guests

For breakfast, consider items like individually wrapped breakfast biscuits, sandwiches, yogurt, fruit bowls, individual bags of cereals, ....

3. Sack lunches for 9 guests

- Can be prepared as we have done in the past.
- Add something like meat/cheese filled sandwich or bagel, fruit, snack bar, juice, water, cookie, fruit bowl, yogurt, ... whatever you think a hungry person might like for lunch! (Be mindful that some of our guest might have difficulty eating hard food)
- A small hand sanitizer and napkins might be appreciated

4. Laundry

We will keep the sheets in plastic bags. If you let it sit for two or three days, no active viruses will be present any more. Regardless, we'll provide a mask and gloves to handle the laundry while dirty and ask you to wash it on the hottest machine setting.
